Some may remember their times on the athletic fields.

Others may just remember the awkward-shaped building in which they spent the last four years. That's right, the awkward-shaped building. During your time at NAHS it may not seem like a big deal, but it truly does represent North Attleboro to the fullest. Walk by the strange capsule-looking classrooms, take another tight corner by the big window upstairs, question the giant whale painting in the staircase. All these things are unique to North Attleboro High School and the NAHS student.

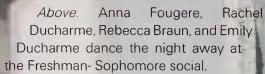

From the outside, a student at NAHS looks just like every other average student in the world, but it takes an outsider to take the time to really meet the student to truly understand what makes an NAHS student, an NAHS student. Newspaper articles explaining successes and failures only go so far. However, until an outsider gets past the exterior, and decides to meet a student first hand, he would not have the opportunity to understand just how unique and awe-inspiring we are.

From the time we enter North Attleboro High School to the time we leave we face

With walls and hallways that have no right angles, to classrooms that are in a pod, you will definitely have a hard time finding another school built the same way. sports meets to win, rallies to celebrate, plays to attend, friends to have fun with, and memories to make. This school, with all its quirks, is now so familiar to us that we could walk it in the dark. We might not want to, but we could. Over the years, the class of 2009 has grown accustomed to our school's bizarre characteristics. The angles and shapes that make up the building have become a part of us.

Although our class has not had the best reputation from the start of freshman year, we truly are a great class. Looking at our class from a different angle, the flaws that were once there have vanished. No matter what our futures might bring, our four years at North Attleboro High School have become the blueprints from which we all build the rest of our lives.

You cannot try to classify our class as a whole but you must look a little deeper at the people in this group for their own talents, skills, and idiosyncrasies. If you try to rely on stereotypes or make assumptions you will skip over the special qualities that really do set us apart. All we are asking is... take a look at us from a different angle.

Our Freshman year was a time of adjustment. We had to adjust to the tiny lockers, as well as the complicated room numbering. Walking into the building on our very first day of high school, we were overwhelmed with mixed emotions. From the moment we anxiously entered the theater for our assembly, we could not wait to begin our four-year journey in a brand new school. Eventually, we managed to find our way through the maze of classrooms and began to get the hang of things. We elected President Rayshawn Green, Vice-President Jimmy Chien, Secretary Katie Czepiel, and Treasurer Shaun Crimmons to lead us on our journey. At the Thanksgiving Rally, Mr. Gay pronounced us as the "most pathetic class" and we were subjected to the chants of "Freshmen Clean Up." With the help of the advisors Mr. Russo and Miss Rice, this team of class officers planned some great events, including the Freshman-Sophomore Social. As Freshman year came to a close, we all felt prepared to take our next big step through high school.

The next year when September rolled around we realized nothing really changed. Looking back, there aren't too many more perks to being a sophomore than to being freshmen - but at least we were on our way. The biggest differences came with class elections. The class elected Amy Chea as President, Lauren Goldberg as Vice President, Rayshawn Green as Secretary and Amy Goss as Treasurer. Throughout the school year we were introduced to everyone's favorite subject - chemistry and given a little dose of what was to come with our first stab at the PSAT. Then during Thanksgiving we experienced our final rally with the now forbidden confetti. And in December, the infamous Freshmen-Sophomore Social literally brought down the house in the Middle School cafeteria across the street. Finally, in May of 2007 we buckled down to pass the English and Math MCAS tests. Before we knew it, we were into our junior year about to face an entirely new assortment of challenges and experiences as upperclassmen.

No longer unimportant, we were now just one year away from being the top dogs. With Amy Chea as President, Shaun Crimmins as Vice President, Katie Czepiel as Secretary, and Amy Goss as Treasurer, we were in good hands. Seeing as the Freshman-Sophomore Social was no longer open to us, it was time to start the first and only Junior-Senior Social. Soon after this venture, we would find ourselves butting heads with the seniors again in the annual Junior vs. Senior Powder Puff Game. We watched our girls fight the grueling battle, only to come up short in the end. The year continued like a roller coaster, with its ups and downs. When things took a turn for the unexpected in May we didn't know how much we needed each other. As hard as this tragedy hit us, we knew that life could not be kept at a standstill. When Junior Prom finally arrived, so did our class looking better than ever. With junior year finally done we were ready for the summer.

Before we knew it, Senior Year had finally arrived. It took a lot for us to get here, but we made it. The beginning of the year was littered with SATs, retaking SATs, ACTs, retaking ACTs, and college application deadlines. We learned how to juggle school work, jobs, sports, college apps, and whatever remnant of a social life we were able to scrape together. It was terrible and a lot of work, but in the end, it was all worth it. We could finally ditch the long, treacherous hike from the Junior Lot and were granted access to the coveted Senior Lot. The class re-elected myself, Amy Chea, as President, Katie Czepiel as Secretary, and Amy Goss as Treasurer, while newly elected Vice President Rayshawn Green provided us with the extra voice that we needed. Together, with the help of our advisors, Ms. Bellavance and Mr. Russo, "the fifth Beatle" Maria Caudle, and also with the support of our class, we were able to organize a number of fun and successful events. We had many hat days, Homecoming, the Thanksgiving Game Rally, and the annual Pickleball Tournament, just to name a few. We brought in a new tradition when we walked in last at the Homecoming Rally to our theme song "Swagga Like Us" with pots and pans that helped lead us to our victory, and also when we introduced Steve Marino as our hypnotist for the year. And last but not least, we put together an amazing production with Mr. NAHS, which was rumored to be the best the school has seen in years, ask around if you don't believe me. To close out the year, we had our Prom at the beautiful Lake Pearl Luciano's in Wrentham. Finally, the year came to an end, it took forever but came too soon. With the help of our families, our teachers, our coaches, and our community, we are able to say that we are ready to be on our own. After four years of hard work, we are rewarded at last. North Attleboro High School will always remember the Class of 2009 as the most unpredictable and the most unforgettable class that has ever passed through its hallways. As this chapter of our lives is ending and we are about to embark on a new journey, we are comforted with the fact that North Attleboro High School will always remember us.

Everyone warned us about junior year – the most challenging, hectic, stressful year of high school. Now that it's over, we've realized one thing for sure... it really wasn't so bad. Yes, we've had our share of ups and downs – SATs, difficult classes, intense sports practices - but we've made some great memories and accomplished a lot along the way. We kicked off the year by starting our fundraising for prom with hat days and planning the event along with our prom committee. Although we were rookies with planning, the help of everyone in the class allowed us to be able to reach our goal! We also raised money by running a concession stand at North Idol. We had our junior prom on May 16th at the Westin Hotel in Providence. After some last minute panic, it was a huge success, and everyone can agree that it was a great time! Now we're beginning to look towards the future, and figure out what comes after life at NAHS whether it be college, work, or the military. Okay guys, just one more year. Let's make it the best one yet!

Unior Prom

First and foremost, thanks need to be given to all the students and teachers who helped organize and plan the 2009 Junior Prom; it was a big hit!

The beautiful Narragansett Ballroom of the Westin Hotel in Providence was set for a night with the old time movie stars. Everyone was dressed to their fullest, looking better than ever. It was a wonderful night and everyone was having a blast. The Westin Hotel provided great services, and the food was delicious.

Thanks to the great DJ's music, everyone was showing off their best dance moves. Overall, the class of 2010 had a successful junior prom and looks forward to seeing what's in store for next year.

As sophomores, the class of 2011 has made quite an impression during its second year at North. They have shown that their talents expand not only from books but to athletics and the arts as well. The Sophomore's academic achievements ranged from finalists in the science fair, to top marks on the national Spanish and French exams, and noted excellence in a variety of different subjects. While on the flip side, this class has shown that they also excel in activities outside of the academic world. From thespian inductees in the theatre club, to students receiving high marks in the districts music competition, this class accepts nothing less than excellence. With a large percentage of sophomores involved in varsity sports all year round, north pride is never hard to find in this group of students. Along with pride for their school, you can see the large amount of spirit they have for their own class displayed in events like the freshman-sophomore social, and the rally. The class of 2011 has shown there is much to be expected in the following two years at North, and we are prepared to take our junior year head on.

Bum bum be dum, bum bum be dum bum. A simple beat and phrase can explain the excitement of the freshman-sophomore social. The senior pit was quickly filled with nervous but eager underclassmen on the night of Saturday December 13, 2008.

Not a bad outfit was in sight with all the girls looking their best in patterned dresses, and guys "dressed to kill" in shirts and ties. Everyone was ready to dance the night away with the DJ playing all the favorite songs.

It was a night to remember and certainly will not be forgotten. The Freshman-Sophomore social is an amazing tradition that unifies the underclassmen and only gets better as the years go on.

The freshman class of 2012 entered the doors of North Attleboro High School excited and ready to take on the challenge of high school. There were many new adjustments that had to be made that took some of us longer to adapt to than others. Small lockers, finding our way around the building, and getting used to our schedules were only some of the challenges we had to overcome. We quickly learned that we were once again at the bottom of the totem pole after hearing "go home freshman" chants during the many rallies and being squished into the freshman pit.

The students within our class have excelled both academically and athletically throughout our freshman year. We are proud of the many students who have worked hard in the classroom in order to earn honor roll status and attendance to the quarterly Renaissance Assembly. The freshman class has also been able to excel outside of the classroom by continuing North Attleboro's legacy of strong and competitive sports programs. Both boys and girls freshman teams have had successful seasons, with many players in various sports being brought up to JV or Varsity duty. The freshman class of 2012 has had a very positive and successful year and we hope to continue this Excellency during our remaining years at North Attleboro High School.

Can You Dig It?
This season was unlike any other. We beat records and pushed ourselves to the limit. We finally beat Franklin (in three games), and made it to the second round of the tournament. We also didn't see Dana at all!

Unfortunately, Coach Fisher had a sister that worked us harder than Dana. We also had our annual visit from good old Spencer; but most importantly, we finally became a team and made friends that will last a lifetime. We are truly so proud of all you girls this season. You have made it unbelievably awesome for the seniors leaving and we could not have asked for a better season. We are so happy we overcame obstacles and fought through it all! We had rough times, but we stuck together. We will miss you all next year! Good luck in whatever life has in store for you and we wish the best of luck to next year's captains! Kick butt and do whatever it takes...no excuses!

Here's Your Famous KFE!

After an unbelievable season in 2007, the 2008 boys soccer program had a lot to live up to. Returning only 3 starters to the lineup, the team had a lot of rebuilding to do. Even with the lack of experience, the team proved to be one of the best in the Hockomock League.

The captains got the team pumped up for every game with awesome, though slightly repetitive, speeches. "Can we be explosive? Can we be better than we've ever been before?" The answer to those questions was shown during our work in every game. However, at practice we were always a bit less serious, with certain unmentionable, recurring lacks of self-control (Goodwin). Coach Santos and Coach Alves always tried to control us, but someone was always sure to be talking (Goodwin again).

Even hurt patellas couldn't hold us back as we proved again we were worthy of reaching the state tournament for the fourth year in a row. This is also a notable achievement for the class of 2009, who have gained entrance to the tournament during every season, a first for any class at North Attleboro High School. This resilient class has shown its passion by playing as hard as possible during every minute, every game, and every season.

As the year finished we compiled a record of 11-5-3 and had five Sun Chronicle all-stars, three Hockomock all-stars, and one Eastern Mass and All State All Star. We left behind a legacy that won't soon be forgotten, and will hopefully be continued in the upcoming years. I'm forever blowing bubbles, pretty bubbles in the air.

Fiiiiiiiiire!

This season can not be judged by our final record or performance on the field, but by the memories we made off the field. We had many obstacles to overcome, most of all replacing the 17 graduated players that once dominated the varsity field. Having a young varsity team was challenging at times, but our hard work over the summer got us ready for the intense season that lay ahead. Our preparation for the season began early in the summer with a new weightlifting program. Even though we could bench over 80 pounds, we couldn't manage to pull our chin over the pull-up bar. Thè team was greatly tested at camp, but we rose above the adversity and focused on our common goal; a successful season. Throughout doubles, we gained the necessary skills to be a competitive team in the Hockomock League. You could say we were an "unlucky" team, hitting the crossbar more than 40 times in practice (yes, we counted). Although we were extremely unlucky we came out with a few key victories including Foxboro, Sharon, and Canton. We kept the tradition of obnoxious bus rides, bad singing, and loud music going. Little Sister Dress-Up Day proved to be another memorable event with characters such as Spiderman, Superman, and a chicken. Our team enjoyed eating obscene amounts of food at spaghetti dinners, tyedye parties, and chili night. Soccer was not just a thing we did everyday, it was a way of life. Hard work and dedication were main themes of this season. This season has separated the leaders from the followers and the team will be left in good hands.

Good luck Jill and Abby. Bring the FIRE!

Teammates by Chance, Sisters by Choice

From raking the field at tryouts to the last singing bus ride home, this is one season we will never forget. Even though our record doesn't show it, our team came together and became a sisterhood that will last forever. The first cookout showed not only the stress we get from tee-shirt making, but also our awesome dancing skills. It also allowed us to enjoy one of our passions as a team... eating. This passion also encouraged us many times throughout the season at our memorable team nights and at practice when our cheer "cupcakes" truly pumped up the offense. Our dress-up days at school included full uniform, black day, pink day, and of course army day, which were nothing but fun. The annual breast cancer walk was nothing but exciting. Although it was an early Sunday morning and freezing outside, our team came together to not only support breast cancer, but also our coach Ms. Goyette. The juniors did an amazing job organizing our senior tribute from decorating our lockers, cars, and the field, to giving speeches that left no dry eyes in the entire cafeteria. The annual varsity Halloween party was filled with scandalous costumes, including "grams and gramps" (Cath and Kath), that kept us all laughing throughout the season. From the serious speeches to the crazy analogies, our team always found a way to come together before games during our pump up circle. Even though we had plenty of sweat, tears, and pain, the enjoyment that came everyday with each other shone through in the end. This is one season we will never forget. Good luck next season; we know all of you will be successful. We know the new captains will be great next year and we are honored to pass down our captainship to them. We love you all.

Chasing Dreams

The 2008 Girls' Cross-Country season will never be forgotten. Years from now when I go to look through this yearbook and scan the pictures of the girls from this team I will most remember the laughs we shared, the workouts we finished and the races that made us push ourselves to the limit.

The team this year consisted of a motley crew of 18 intriguing and hardworking girls, and although we might not have had the most winning of seasons, I would not change a thing about the outcome and our own successes. We created close bonds that will last a lifetime and as a result helped to connect varying groups of girls. Each girl brought her own unique personality and source of energy to practice. Whether it was a contagious laughter, a neverending battle with physics or a pair of purple armpits, we learned from each other for the better. We had many unforgettable workouts during the season. I do not think anyone can forget the 300 work out in the rain or the annual trip to Diamond Hill in Cumberland for a run through a dismantled Haunted

I am lucky to have been a captain for such a great group of girls and look forward to handing the position off to Vanessa Parker next year! Good luck to the 2009 XC team, and thank you to Coach Estey for all his support and guidance. Our group of girls could not be any prouder to be his final team in a long successful and devoted coaching career of over thirty years. Surely, no one will ever forget this team. The Trail Continues...

Fueled by Mountain Dew, Tex Barry's hot dogs, and Olive Garden breadsticks, the 2008 North Attleboro Cross Country team finished another successful season. Led by captain Nick Wade, the team concluded the season with an overall record of 4-5. The team contained a mere four seniors – proving to the entire Hockomock League that North will be back for years to come. The team as a whole let no setback overcome them. With a captain suffering from a hip ailment, every runner stepped up posting personal bests in league meets and state invitationals.

Throughout the season, the guys continued the North Attleboro runner tradition of gathering at the local Papa Gino's before each meet. Traditions like this, mixed with the sheer ability to fit almost all of the team into one car created a tightly knit bond that can form only between cross country runners and their teammates. At the end of the season banquet, the team selected Junior Max Nolan as the MVP and 2009 Captain, and Junior Brian Carroll as most improved. The traditionally eccentric napkin awards were also handed out, leaving Freshman Matt Cubberley with the coveted "Most likely to get sucked into a black hole" superlative and Sophomore Nick "Clams" O'Leary with "Most likely to be accidentally harvested to make seafood soup". So guys, I wish you the best of luck with next year's Cross Country season. Run hard and don't ever be afraid to use the sixth gear (or seventh, or eighth). -Captain Nick Wade

What It's Really About

It's never about the wins and losses in North Attleboro. It is about the proud tradition of LTD. Loyalty Toughness, Discipline. These were the values that defined the 2008 Big Red football team. The Team rallied around the loyalty each man had for their teammate, and we believed that we could win when it seemed no one thought we could. Toughness came next. If we knew anything about this team, we knew we were tough, and if we knew we were going to be beat, it would be the toughest win any team would claim all year. Lastly and most importantly, discipline. Thanks to our coaches, we were certain that no one would lack discipline on the field.

It's all kicked off every August when captain's practices begin and anticipation for a great season starts. Before you know it, we left for camp where hard work began and the foundation for our team was built. With great leadership from our seniors, this foundation was strong. After a slow start, the team showed its true character bouncing back with six straight victories. One of our biggest wins was against undefeated King Phillip in a great second half comeback. This put us in a Hockomock Championship game against Mansfield at Community Field. Even though we lost, we achieved our ultimate goal by proving we could compete with any team. We also earned the respect from the people that doubted us the whole season. As the senior class leaves, we finally realize that it is not about the wins and losses. It's about values gained and the lessons learned from playing football at North Attleboro. Finally, the seniors take their place in the Long Red Line and truly realize what it means to be a Big Red football player. -Captains Mike Mitry & Kevin Richman

Just Taaaaaap It In

The great Vince Lombardi once said, "Winning is not everything; wanting to win is". Although the 2008 North High golf team did not always come out on top, we gave it our all every match. In a season that could have been classified as a "rebuilding year", the team approached every match believing we could emerge victorious.

We entered the 2008 golf season with uncertain expectations, as we were returning only four varsity players from the prior year. We knew that in order for us to have a successful year, we would have to show up each and every day ready to play. Perhaps one of our best wins all year was over rival Attleboro at Highland Country Club, where we received key rounds from up and down the varsity lineup. The team finished the regular season strong with a close one-shot victory over Canton, which was a great way for the Seniors to go out. Unfortunately, we finished the season with a less than spectacular 8-10 record, which kept us from returning as a team to state sectionals. Still, we were able to send Ryan Doherty as an individual. The season came to a close with the Hockomock League Championships, held at the TPC Boston. The team sent Ryan Doherty, Dylan Estrella, and Greg Reddington, who combined to bring home a 4th place finish. It was a fitting end to the season golfing on a beautiful course on a great October afternoon.

We hope that all the guys on the team had as much fun this year as we did. We know that the team will continue to be committed and word hard every day, and will always ractice good sportsmanship on and off the course. Good ck next year and in the coming years, we wish you guys

Think Big, Take Charge

Starting the 2008-2009 cheerleading season, both having gained some and lost some members, we definitely had our work cut out for us. We started off behind schedule, but our team was strongly devoted. We started working extra hours to prepare us for what lay ahead. Our new and improved routine was packed with hard stunts, faster dances, elite tumbling, powerful voices, and crowd appeal to the extreme this year. We had many practices filled with frustration that seemed never-ending and exhausting, but we persevered with the consistent push from our three coaches and the leadership from our seniors.

The freshmen this year took on a huge role. They had to step it up and do everything they were asked for the good of the team. The sophomores helped show the team that anything is possible if you just fight for it. The juniors helped out the seniors so much this year. All of these girls really fought for their dreams and had fun doing it. Finally, to the seniors, what can we say? We had an amazing season and we could not have asked for better people to share it with. To all of the girls, thanks for an unforgettable season and congratulations on becoming New England Champions! Also, thank you for staying true to the sisterhood! Good luck next year! -Captains Alicia & Aly

The Perfect 10.0

With ten determined athletes and the help from Mr. Sullivan, North Attleboro Gymnastics was reestablished. The 2008-2009 Winter Gymnastics season marked a new era. As a small group of ten, we proved that anything is achievable if you work at it. We went into every meet knowing that Coach Krissy was not looking for wins, but more importantly for improvement. What made it such a great season was that each athlete offered her own individuality. Under new coaching and little experience, the team shocked the league with its motivation and persistency. Our improvement and hard work was apparent at every meet. Since no one would agree to wear our snazzy leotards to school on meet days, we bonded by designing our own t-shirts. The laughter was nonstop while we enjoyed each other's company on the bus rides and had endless talks about food. We finished our season at Hocks with a record of 6 wins and 4 losses. Unfortunately, we were one spot short of moving on to Sectionals. This season was everything I could've asked for, and I hope the North Attleboro Gymnastics program will continue in the ap-

Caution: Dangerous When Wet

With our Mohawks in full force we looked to take home the first Hockomock league swimming championship in school history. With a depleted team we managed a third place finish, but swam our best with the boys medley qualifying for sectionals and Senior Charlie Harding knocking five seconds off his best time in the 100 yard backstroke to place in the top ten. Not to mention junior Dan McCracken eclipsing Captain Keane's best 50 yard freestyle time with a 25.63. Everyone contributed to our success this season though, with newcomers Charlie Yao and Jeff Lees receiving vital points in the relays and providing some awesome comic relief along the way. Then there was Nugs and his passionate outbursts coupled with an awkward glance from resident breaststroker Peter Chang. Even Freshman Steve Housmann made a huge impact and I wouldn't be surprised to see him claim a few school records of his own one day.

We had three All-Stars in Housmann, Chang and butterfly extraodinaire Ryan Bowen. We finished 7-3 overall with one of the best and most talented teams I've ever swam with. Shout out to all the boys, thanks for the memories and it was an honor and pleasure being your captain. Bring home a championship next year. For everyone not on the team, I would like to answer some FAQ's. We do not wear speedos, our suits are closer to compression shorts than anything else and we do not shave our legs... we leave that to the girls' team.

Just Keep Swimming

The 2008-2009 Girls Swim Team season is one our team, coach, parents and opponents will never forget. In all honesty, before our season began we were a little nervous having lost a significant amount of senior swimmers from last year and having no "All Star" swimmers. Getting in the pool our first day was definitely rough to both new and experienced swimmers, which of course is expected. The chlorine is not exactly a friend of ours and the air quality is anything but perfect. After a few weeks of practice however, things got smoother and the swimming seemed a little more natural. We trained hard for our first meet, which was against KP. We were a bit hesitant going against them, but came out with a win that would lift our spirits high enough to carry us throughout the entire season.

We had our first team dinner at Papa Ginos as a way to welcome the new kids. Team dinners are a time to not only hang out with each other, but to gorge ourselves with food too. This just shows how much of a family the swim team is. For the first time, we were the underdogs and because of that, we will never be doubted again. This team has enough support from not only the parents and coaches, but also from each other. Good luck everyone in your last years of high school. We love you all so much, and always remember, "just keep swimming".

Dangle!

In only its second varsity season in over 20 years, the NAHS Ice Hockey team kept on improving. With only five seniors, we knew we would be up to a big challenge again this year. We started off the year strong with a win in our Jamboree, which gave the team confidence that this season could be better than the last. With late night practices on Fridays and games on Saturdays, the team had to learn to bond together even more because we obviously were not going to be given an opportunity to go out on those cool-winter nights. Instead, we worked hard all year long to improve on last years season and prove to the opposition that we were a force to be reckoned with.

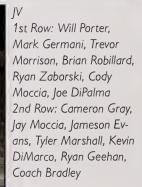

Maybe it was the infectious disease, Justinitis, that spread throughout the team. Maybe it was the music blasting in the locker room before every game. Maybe it was the coaches' voices spilling confidence over the team. Or maybe even the long bus rides to whatever rink we could practice at. But no matter what, the members of this team will always remember the second varsity season.

Although the season seemed to be plagued with injuries and hardships, we still gave it our all in every game. As the year came to a close, we finished with a less than perfect record, but still accomplished our goal of improving on our inaugural season. In addition to that, Colin Flynn and Mike McTernan were rewarded with being named as both Hockomock and Sun Chronicle All-Stars.

In the end it was a great season and lots of fun for everyone involved. Every player improved greatly under the leadership of our committed coaches. I wish the team good luck next year and I know they will put in the hard work to make the state tournament for the first time.

Paint this Track Red!

This track season can be described in only a few words: the best pain ever felt. Through all the workouts and the sweat, indoor track athletes strived to run, jump and throw their best. Under second time head coach, Ms. McGrail and senior Captains Lauren Goldberg and Katie Czepiel the Girl's 2008-2009 Indoor Track Team had the season to remember.

We played "Karate, Hunter and Gorilla" in the hallway and performed our hilarious track charades. We crab walked and wheel barrel raced until our arms gave out, made shirts in the cafeteria together and ate till it hurt at the team spaghetti dinner. We picked our big and little sisters and transformed into twins when we celebrated Sister Appreciation Day by dressing like our sisters. The Sleeper Cell laughed at Ms. McGrail's awful jokes while the sprinters listened to Coach Thomas' long speeches starting with "Alright my friends." Coach Holster's spirit lifted those of the throwers.

Although our team was small, we thrived on competition. And besides all the jokes and laughs, we knew how to work hard. Our team earned second place at the Class B Championship Meet and was the fifth best team overall in Massachusetts! We want to thank all of our girls for making this the best season of our lives. Good Luck next year! Just remember - there will always be bumps in the road, hurdles to jump and times to chase, but the best pain ever felt is worth the success. -Captains Katie & Lauren

Like A Boss

Yet again fueled by Mrs. Peter's amazing cookies, the North Attleboro Indoor Track Team returned with a vengeance and placed third in Hockomock League with a 6-2 record. Anchored by a large group of Sophomores and Juniors, the team looks for victory next year.

The team cleaned up at both the Massachusetts Division II and All-State meets placing 5th and 9th respectively. At the All-State meet, Junior Kevin Peter placed 5th in the shot put, Senior Captain Nick Wade became state champion in the 600-meter race, and 4×400 relay squad placed 6th – all qualifying for the New England Championships.

Representing the school and town, the team sent a Sprint Medley Relay group to the Nike Indoor National meet in Boston. Composed of Brady Shorey, Matt Smith, Ryan Doherty, and Nick Wade, the team placed 7th, missing All-American credentials by a mere 0.15 seconds.

At the end of the year banquet, Juniors Dan McKim, Max Nolan, and Brian Carroll were tapped to become next year's captains.

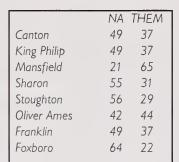

Guys, we wish the best of luck to you next year. Enjoy running and stay with it. Win the Hocks!

We Started as Teammates, Ended as Sisters

We thought this year would be a challenge after losing six talented seniors last year. We did lose a lot of talent, but we gained good personalities which was a great attribute to our team. The 2008-2009 season was anything but ordinary. Under the leadership of Coach DelBonis, "This team was a special team." The team chemistry was amazing; we were a very close team. Friendships were made that will last a lifetime. These friendships go past the games and practices. The team dinners, sleep overs, and even just hanging out, made the team that much more enjoyable. Our team was glad to give Anne de Bakker, a foreign exchange student,

This season was full of challenges, but we all stuck together. This year taught everyone a lot of life lessons and helped everyone grow as a person. We had many sicknesses and injuries, which held us short a few players. However, we all persevered and got through all the hard times. This year's team was a great way to end the seniors' last year of high school basketball. Thank you for an awesome season! Good luck next season, we'll miss you!

Never Die Easy

This season was a roller coaster of good and bad events. Whether we were running sprints or had just won a game, every player was able to give forth a great effort. Our record doesn't show the success we had in a season that was uncertain at the start. We were a young team with little to no experience in varsity action. The sophomores and juniors were fearless of the challenge in front of them. Every player stepped up huge throughout the season and was able to compete to the best of their ability.

Perhaps the best game we played was against the much more experienced and more talented Oliver Ames team. Once again as daring as ever the sophomores and juniors stepped up. The seniors led the way with determination but the underclassmen added something to the mix that couldn't be stopped.

After losing to Oliver Ames during the return trip, the season took an unexpected turn. We all grew up a little bit after the events that occurred. However, everyone remained as focused as ever and continued to have fun. The team battled for every possession and lived by our motto, "Never Die Fasy"

Every season starts with a sign up meeting and ends with a banquet. However, it's the time between those events that define the season and the memories you will have forever. The entire year was an awesome experience full of life lessons that will be remembered by all the players and coaches that took part.

Do Work!

We had another successful year finishing with an 18-2 record. We accomplished our goal and won our 10th Sectional title, defeating Somerset 37-11, and we carried on a tradition of excellence that everyone expects from North Wrestling. Coming into the season, we were really unsure about our young team. With only half the lineup returning and few upperclassmen, it appeared a young North might have a short season. The senior class really stepped up for practice, making sure everyone was working as hard as they should... the senior leadership was the glue that bonded this teams' success. Over the course of the season the team got better and better every day that went by. All that hard work at those grueling three hour practices was worth it in the end. Winning our 10th Division II South Sectional Title was our goal for the season. The two weeks leading up to the meet were the two toughest weeks that North faced all season. One starter being injured for the season, and two others unable to compete, it looked to be all over for North. But there was no way our hard work and dedication was going out the window. Kids stepped up and filled the empty spots, and showed that toughness and depth that North is traditionally known for. The meet was won and the title was ours. If not for the dedication of our varsity lineup and our J.V.'s waiting on the reserve, we would not have been able to accomplish our goals. The line-up was composed of only of his opponent. Jesse lived up to the five seniors, leaving it a mix between juniors, sophomores, Kummer name by being one of the and a freshman or two. That means the team will be returnmost dominant wrestlers in the state. ing with solid depth and the experience necessary to have yet another successful season. A Season Of Firsts

Coming into the season, no one quite knew what to expect after last season. We went into tryouts not knowing how we would fare. There were also a few new guys trying out who all seemed promising.

The first few games were shaky but the team banded together and became close. Everyone supported each other and it was a great environment for the younger guys to take from. We added another coach in Coach Curran, which gave us the spark we needed. The team began playing better and showed that we were a force to be reckoned with.

Practices on the other hand were just like hanging out with your buddies. We may have hit a few bumps, but even the fundraising was made fun. All the coaches were very supportive of our progress and kept pushing us to achieve our goals. The eventual breakthrough came against Canton. Coach Curran was due to ship out for the Coast Guard the next day, so it was a game that the whole team put their hearts into. In epic style, we scored with less than a minute left off of a breakaway to win 8-7. As the season came to a close, we won out last four games and proved that North Lax was for real.

These moments will stick in our minds forever. Just to know we were part of this historic season; We wouldn't have it any other way. We have had an amazing time this year and are extremely proud of the whole team. We are truly honored to be a part of this program. Good luck next year guys!

Peace, Love, and Lax

Throughout the 2009 season countless memories were made on the North Attleboro girls lacrosse team. From the practices, to the team dinners and sleepovers, every moment we spent together we truly bonded as a team. The season started off with tough games, but with the support and positive attitudes we all displayed, we were able to pull through and show the best record North Girls Lacrosse has had in its history.

Not only did we play great, but we had some of the funniest times. From stories at five in the morning at sleepovers, to laughing fits that lasted for minutes at practice, you could constantly see a smile on all the girls' faces. We truly loved playing, and truly loved the girls we were surrounded by. The many traditions we had, such as right arm up, left arm down, and the way we warm up, will always show how truly connected we were. With D-braids and shin high socks, we were able to show the other teams our intimidation factor physically. If you ask anyone they could tell you the lacrosse team is infamous for their tie-dye and sweatpants days. Now when it comes to dancing, the lacrosse team will never be lacking in talent. Anywhere we are, from the practice field, to game time, to the back of the bus on the way

We wish you all the best of luck in your high school years to come. Go out there and show everyone what North Lacrosse is about; and always remember, it's all about peace, love and lacrosse.

Vamos!

Kids Day kicked off our fierce fundraising efforts to raise money for new tennis uniforms. We continued with a couple of carwashes, canning at Stop & Shop, and selling lanyards and bracelets. We got the uniforms, returned five starting players, and ended with a winning season. From the crazy nicknames-Moose and Baby Food-to the crazy Burgisms, "Down the middle solves the riddle", and all, of the weird noises made throughout the season, we formed an everlasting bond. We will never forget our bus rides singing our anthem "I'm On a Boat" and plenty of other songs, even though we were stuck with those freshman baseball players. We learned that tennis is a mental game, especially when we got really mad with the stiff kneed walk or yelling real loud. Our season drove us to become better players and work harder to achieve perfection. Supported by our home team mascots, Bella and Shea, our team went on to have a winning season of 17-3. Good luck to everyone next year and VAMOS!

This year's North High Boys Tennis team came into the season with uncertain expectations. Nobody was quite sure what would happen to a team who lost its three best players to graduation, and who would have to rely heavily upon underclassmen to be successful. What we all did know, however, was that the 2009 Boys Tennis team would not go down without a fight.

1ennis Our season started off in the cold of mid-March, with tryout week. Coach Mulkerrins was faced with the difficult task of sorting out a potential lineup, as coming into the week almost nothing was clear. Over the course of the first half of the season, we tallied up 6 victories and 3 losses. We were well on our way to achieving our biggest goal, qualifying for the State Tournament. The second half of the season showcased our growth as a team, with quality wins over Foxboro and Stoughton. After our final regular season match, a victory over Attleboro, we were left with a respectable record of 11-7, and qualified for the tournament.

Overall, it was a successful year for North Boys Tennis. We grew as players and as a team, and were ultimately able to achieve our goal of qualifying for the State Tournament. The team truly stepped up this year and met the challenge presented to us, day in and day out. We wish the best to the team in the coming years, and hope that next year's team will carry on the legacy of North Attleboro Boys Tennis.

One Pitch...

The 2009 NAHS baseball team started off the season hot in the Hockomock League with a fivegame winning streak. This year could have easily been called a rebuilding year because the team consisted of only 5 seniors (Kevin Richman, Dan Nelson, Mike D'Attilio, Steve Beane and Jeff Stowell), while the rest were juniors and sophomores. As the season went along the team fought hard in every game. The loss of players combined with multiple injuries made it difficult to keep a consistent line-up. The team strived to do their best with a hurting roster. However, the underclassmen stepped up big and filled in the numerous holes. Although we faced constant challenges, we achieved our ultimate goal of making it to the state tournament with a 12-8 record.

A League of their Own

The Rocketeers started off the season with high hopes. We had grown since last season with a new coach and losing six very important seniors. This year, those seniors had gone their separate ways leaving only four: Alicia Patalano, Sarah Brown, Jill Brunelli, and Holly Barrett. Coach Wallace thought this season would be a rebuilding year, but the seniors as well as the underclassmen stepped up their game leading the Rocketeers to the tournament for the second year in a row.

Our first win in the tourney was over New Bedford, with a score of 5-3. Although we lost to the second seed team Norwood, and our season had ended, the friendships we made along the way will live on forever. Best of luck next year to all the girls and we hope you have a great season!

Run Fast. Turn Left. Repeat.

Another Spring - another successful outdoor track season. The boys' track team finished with an 8-1 record, falling only to league rival Mansfield in an epic battle that came down to the relays.

Once more, the sugar from Mrs. Peter's cookies powered North's runners, jumpers, and throwers. The team rocked its way to a second place finish at the Hockomock League Meet with a total 89 points scored.

At the Division II state meet, North finished in fourth place with 44 points from thrower Kevin Peter, Captain Nick Wade, hurdler Vlad Francois, and the 4x400m relay team. In the Massachusetts All-State meet, Kevin finished sixth and eighth in the discus and shot put respectively, Nick defended his state 800m title, and the relay team finished in third place, well ahead of their expected time.

During the season as a whole, several new school records were established. Junior Vlad Francois dominated his way to a new 400m hurdle record, Nick Wade ran new records in the mile and 800, and the boys put new names up for the 4x400 and Sprint Medley relays.

The team selected Juniors Vlad Francois, Dan McKim, and Brian Carroll as next year's captains for the 2010 season. Guys, we wish you all the best with next year's endeavors. Keep rocking the Hock and make North proud!

Making memories and reaching accomplishments are easily done when you have an awesome team of girls like we did this season! We finished with a winning season and placed second in the state meet. Overall, our team broke three school records in the 200 meter dash, the 4X400 meter relay and the 4X100 meter relay. North Attleboro's fastest 4X100 meter relay team of all time won the state title and competed in the New England Championships. Our underclassmen stepped up their game and made large contributions to the team along with our returning veterans. Whether on the track, on the throwing fields or in the jumping pits, the 2009 North Attleboro Girls' Track and Field Team made a lasting impression in the Hockomock League and

We practiced our teamwork by unscrambling ourselves from the human-knot and singing in tune on the bus rides home from the meets. We took over Papa Gino's to make t-shirts, sold and ate cookie dough till our bellies hurt and spent the day in the sun laughing and swimming at Coach Feid's House during the annual team cookout. The boys' team served us pizza because for the second year in a row, we won our cookie dough selling competition. We give a special thanks to our coaches who inspired us to push ourselves to the limits. Good luck next year!

Red Rocketeers

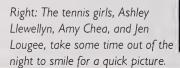

The 2009 Fisher-Kelley Banquet, which took place at Leona's Restaurant, was a night to remember. The senior athletes were all individually recognized for their participation and commitment to their sports. It was Mr. Kummer's first time organizing the banquet, which ran flawlessly. Our beloved trainer, Mitch, gave a touching speech about the history of Big Red Athletcs.

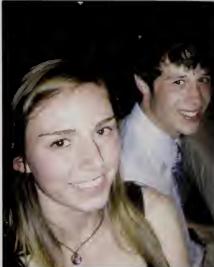

After dinner, Mr. Kummer introduced the retiring Mr. Estey. He spoke about what it means to have the heart and drive of a North Attleboro athlete. He talked of the struggles that a student athlete faces, and of the respect they deserve. Mr. Feid and Mr. Perron then had each athlete stand to be recognized and applauded. The MIAA Sportsmanship Awards were presented to 15-20 athletes who represented Big Red with pride and commendable behavior.

Then the Dr. Daniel M. DeYoung Award was presented to Shannon Moore who demonstrated strength and overall genuine character throughout her sports career. The Maurice D. Grant award was given to Katie Czepiel for her outstanding leadership on and off the track.

All of our coaches and mentors taught us to understand and uphold the values of North Attleboro High School Athletics. These values will surely be passed down to the future senior athletes.

In the school's Third Annual Pickleball tournament, the competition was fierce. Over 60 students participated in the event and many more came to watch and cheer on their favorite teams/players. This year, the ets were distributed among singles and doubles and only the best prevailed. Jon Jacobs and Mike McTernan won Doubles and Junior Sanjeeva Chetty won Singles. The Pickleball tournament each year entices the best pickleball players in the school to face-off against each other. And while the day provides some competition and pressure for some of the more serious athletes, the fun of the sport is never lost. This annual tournament is so important to North Attleboro High School because frankly what kid doesn't like Pickleball? Not to mention that when you leave the walls of NAHS you will always remember that crazy sport named after a dog named Pickles.

Plen Blose's Wiffleball Tournament

The Alex Blase Wiffleball Tournament was a tremendous success. High School students from all grades participated in the first ever wiffleball tournament held in the memory of Alex Blase. The weather was less than perfect but that did not stop the crowds of people from showing up and supporting Alex and his family. Teams designed their own uniforms and participated in one of Alex's favorite pastimes: wiffleball! The love for Alex was tangible in the air and it was a tremendous community effort to run the day long tournament. Held on May 9th, almost a year after his death the day was a great way to remember Alex, spend time with friends and family and just be a kid. This annual tradition is a great way to get together and spend time with the ones that are important to you. So be a Hero and be there next year!

This year's homecoming rally was filled with spirit. Once again the seniors pulled off a win in the spirit contest. This was our second annual homecoming rally. For a taste of something new, the class officers and student council competed in a dodgeball tournament. The senior class officers were embarrassed by the sophomore officers. The week prior to the rally was spirit week. We had college day, decade's day, tye dye day, and other fun spirit days. When Friday came, each class was assigned a color to wear for the spirit contest: the freshmen wore pink, the sophomores wore green, the juniors wore blue, and the seniors wore red and black. As usual, the freshmen were pitiful during the spirit contest. The juniors were loud, but not loud enough for the judge. Next year, they will have their chance.

omecoming Dance

Once again, Homecoming festivities concluded with the annual Homecoming Dance. Although we did not get as many people as we had hoped for, this year's dance was a hit. Everyone had a great time and danced the night away. The Freshmen, Sophomores, Juniors and Seniors congregated in the senior pit of the cafeteria and the dancing began. As voted by the Seniors, Alan Neilan was crowned Homecoming King, and Amy Chea Homecoming Queen. While the DJ played the best hip-hop and rap music, the Homecoming King and Queen enjoyed their dance. Everyone looked great in their casual wear and had a good time. Hopefully, next year's Homecoming Dance will be another success.

This year's Thanksgiving Rally was different from any other. Since confetti is no longer allowed, we gathered together any items that can make a lot of noise. This included pots, pans, maracas, and horns. Everyone wore their school colors and prepared to get rowdy. Once again, the cheerleaders, the marching band, and the color guard put on a flawless performance. The annual Thanksgiving Rally consisted of the customary musical chairs competition with fall captains as the participants, and of course the slide show. The musical chairs competition ended with Mike Mitri and Gage Johnson wrestling for the last chair.

For the first time ever, class officers and class advisors participated in a hula hoop contest. Amy Chea was the last remaining after hula hooping on one foot with multiple hula hoops. The seniors wore their senior t-shirts and brought along their newspapers for the spirit contest. Not surprisingly, the seniors pulled off another win. Once again, the freshmen were pitiful. On a sad note, Mr. Sullivan spoke at his last rally ever about North Attleboro Athletics. The NAHS football team was ready to take home Hilda at the Thanksgiving game in Attleboro. Unfortunately, they did not take home Hilda this year. This just gives the football players more motivation to come back and win next year.

North Idol was a wonderful success! Hosted by the Senior Class, the student body was able to participate in the school's very own "American Idol" competition. There were 12 very promising acts to be performed that night. The contestants wowed the crowd with their talent and made it very hard for the audience to pick only one winner. Mr. NAHS was a great success! After three weeks of basically army training, the boys pulled through and put on an amazing show. The theatre was so packed that people had to fill in spaces by sitting on the cement between seats. We even had to turn a lobby full of people away, SORRY! After weeks of preparation, the candidates nailed the opening dance to "Tearin' Up My Heart." They kept the crowd laughing all night long with their hilarious answers to the questions they were asked and also their entertaining acts. Josh Colvin astounded the crowd with his hidden musical talent followed by a comedy act by NAHS'S resident comedian Alan Neilan. Shaun Crimmons galloped and danced to a country hit and Christian Pirnie revealed a secret performance with his violin. Charlie Harding and Ryan Doherty performed a hysterical original skit followed by Mike D'Attilio, Tom Fitzmaurice, and Kevin Richman doing their comical imitation of the Jonas Brothers. Rayshawr Green, featuring Josh Harris, rapped an original work and Josh Keane did a funny rendition of the famous "Da Bears" Saturday Night Live skit. But in the end, it was Sam Ocel who won over the crowd with the "Single Ladies" dance. The boys were amazing, the escorts looked beautiful, and it was definitely a night to remember.

Every year at North Attleboro High Schoo students recognized for their excellence in academics, good citizenship, and overall positive attitude are inducted into the National Honor Society. Over the course of the year, the National Honor Society members volunteer and help out at various events within the town and school as well as offering tutoring services for NAHS underclassmen.

This year, dozens of juniors and seniors were admitted into the NHS. Induction into the National Honor Society is a difficult process and prestigious honor. Only a select group of students within the upperclassmen are given the chance for application. Amongst those applicants, one third of students are admitted.

Major events this year included the annual North Attleboro High School Craft Fair, annu Food Drive, and various volunteering opportunities at the Special Olympics.

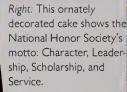

Congratulations to all the new inductees an best of luck next year!

panish Honor Society

The American Association of Teachers of Spanish and Portuguese founded the Spanish National Honor Society or Sociedad Honoraria Hispánica in 1953. Its purpose is to recognize high student achievement in Spanish and to promote interest in Hispanic Studies. Membership is awarded to students in their junior and senior years based upon grades, an enthusiasm towards Spanish culture, a dedication to the study of the language, excellence of character, and good citizenship. Family and friends gathered in December to witness 32 juniors and three seniors inducted into North Attleboro's Chapter of the Spanish National Honor Society. The night was a recognition and celebration of the students' achievements. Each chapter of the SNHS is named after a well-known literary or historical figure. The North Attleboro Chapter is named after the famous Spanish artist, Pablo Picasso. The Spanish society colors are red and gold, representative of the Spanish flag. The society motto is "Todos a Una" or "All as one".

Members of the society participate in a peer-tutoring program. This year, members of the society volunteered to teach Spanish to approximately one hundred first and second grade students at the Martin School as a part of La Escuelita Española (The Little Spanish School). This experience proved rewarding because the children were very interested in learning Spanish, and their progress with the language was clearly visible from week to week. We hope to instill in them a love of the Spanish language. The society members participate in monthly activities associated with Spanish culture including a Salsa Night in Providence, RI and a movie night.

As the latest wave of immigrants continues to come to the United States in search of the American dream, the resulting rise in the number of Spanish-speaking Americans has been dramatic. Consequently, it has never been a better time to learn Spanish. The ability to communicate with this growing segment of our population will not only benefit you intellectually, but it will also make you much more valuable to prospective employers.

The Antoine de Saint-Exupery Chapter of the French National Honor Society had another successful year at North. The small group of members participated in peer tutoring throughout the year and helped to introduce the language to sixth grade students. This accelerated French program, "La Petite Ecole Francaise" or "The Little French School" kept learning French new and exciting for middle school students across the street. The French National Honor Society is a special group of foreign language enthusiasts who have been honored for their high achievements in the classroom. But what is most impressive is that these French students explore and spread the language's culture and beauty outside the classroom as well.

North's finest coalition was back and better than ever. With an election of historic proportions in November, we never ran out of good topics to discuss. Mrs. Caldwell kept them coming back with her goodies and philosophical questions. Each meeting was packed with the school's best ready to make a stand that North does not put up with put downs. For a second year in a row, some awesome field trips reinforced all the lessoons learned back at school. When looking back at the 2008-2009 Peer Leaders club activities, we can say we definitely had an impact. First off, the club was composed of students from all grades, and everyone found their place, as well as their desire to help others. We started off by volunteering at the Special Olympics, not only as workers, but mentors as well. Watching the kids run through the high five line with smiles on their faces was such a reward. Our next project was right before the Holiday break in late December. We had a meeting where all the members made cards and notes we could send over to our troops serving in Iraq. Not only did we send cards, but we collected change at lunch that we used to gather up items to make care packages to send as well. To have an impact on someone else is great, and to have a group of students dedicated to doing just that is even better. We hope that the upcoming years of peer leaders will be just as fun and meaningful and our message of volunteer work and caring will continue on throughout lifetimes. Good Luck in your high school years to come!

This group of elite senior athletes helped lead the underclassmen in Phys Ed everyday this year. Their insane skills in the physical arts were vital in teaching these young'uns the true way to play "like a hero." Other than just playing like champions, these leaders also set a great example for the underclassmen due to their great leadership. But most importantly, these gym class heroes taught the underclassmen how to play the greatest game on earth, Pickleball. But no matter how much training the underclassmen may have in Pickleball, they will NEVER be as astounding as this group of seniors is at this beautiful game. Although they may have shown off their skills at times, the younger students were still able to learn a lot from them and were definitely given great role models over the course of the year.

The Lab Leaders are the small group of dedicated students chosen to work behind the scenes to set up and clean up. We are the kids that make sure every chemical is in its place, that every slide is spotless and every pig, brain or heart is not lost. We are the ones who survived A.P. Bio, Mr. Jacques lengthy lab reports or the countless anatomy histology labs. The checklist is left for us everyday: clean the calpels, organize the closet, line up the rows of petri dishes, etc. It's not always an easy task, but we're always there to make sure that ev ery student can have a successful lab. Not all of us can be there every day, but we still work together to prevent catastrophe and botched experiments. Being able to help the science department was extremely rewarding and prepared us for college labs, and we hope that nex year's lab leaders learn as much as we did. Thanks for the opportunities, Mr. Duluk and Mr. Jacques!

This year, Science Club contributed to its outstanding record with one of the largest group of members in years. The leadership adopted by the returning members of the Science Club promise a productive and successful club in the years to follow. The members' passion for science has kept our club's activities interesting and well attended. We continued to raise money by selling candy at the football games to improve the science program at NAHS. Many members volunteered their time on Thursday afternoons to continue mentoring Mrs. Kiff's fourth grade students about vernal pools. We have helped pass on our interests to the next generation by creating a Heritage Day workshop for the middle school students full of interesting experiments. Their favorite demonstrations are the potato cannon and multi-colored fires. Our "Tie-Dye Extravaganza" allowed us to share our love for science with our peers at the high school. This after school activity linked scientific principles to a favorite pastime in a fun and relaxed atmosphere. Another trip to the Science Museum in Boston proved successful and entertaining. Overall, we enjoyed our year doing interesting demonstrations, watching "Back to the Future" and sharing our love for science! Have fun next year and keep up the good work! - President Rachel Martin

The environmental club consists of a small group of students concerned about the welfare of the planet and the people and animals on it. Chelsea Jewett is the president and founder, Rory McDonald is the vice president, and Jessica Hill is the treasurer. Ms. Rice from the history department is the advisor.

The group's activities include scheduling neighborhood cleanups and discussions on topics of interest to the members. These include global warming, welfare of the third world countries, animal treatment, and laws regarding the environment. Most recently, we raised money through a hat day for the North Attleboro Animal Shelter. The money will go towards food and health care for the abandoned animals.

It has been another enthralling year for the science fair community. Ms. Bennett, Dr. Cavedon, and Mr. Salmond helped students develop their projects throughout the school year. The David R. Vito High School Science Fair showcased many diverse projects which were displayed in our media center right before the holiday break. All grade levels participated in this opportunity to present their own scientific experiments. Eighteen students were given the opportunity to attend the Region III Science Fair to compete for a position at the state level.

The Massachusetts State Science and Engineering fair was highly anticipated by the North Attleboro students. On Friday May 1st, students spent a rigorous six hours being judged. In order to unwind, we attended the 60th anniversary banquet where North Attleboro remained undefeated with our title as "Best Dance Crew." The awards were presented on Saturday afternoon. North Attleboro was awarded first, second, and third place as well as honorable mention. Many other awards were earned by the participants. This year's Science Fair was a memorable year for all. Model United Nations, or Model U.N., is a collective group of diverse students interested in discussing world matters. We begin the year brainstorming hot-button issues around the globe that include controversial themes such as poverty, economy, war, environment, and much more. Adhering to the procedures used by the actual United Nations, we create simulations of the Security Council, a branch under the United Nations Charter that maintains world peace and security. Students assume the role of nations throughout the world to create the Security Council. The Security Council then investigates and mediates threats to peace; upon a solution, delegates are able to draft and sponsor a resolution that reflects the character and interests of the sponsoring countries. Resolutions can include economic sanctions to prevent a developing threat, a surge of troops to immediately stop a conflict, or simply the supervision of peacekeeping operations between warring nations to maintain tranquility. The year builds up to the North Attleboro High School Model U.N. conference, hosted by our very own, North Attleboro High School. Various schools, in and around the area, are invited to this thoroughly planned event. The students then create several individual committees head and monitored by the members of our Model U.N. The delegates ultimately reach a resolution for their respective situations, whereupon opposing nations can offer their opinions and decide which motion would be most beneficial to the all the nations involved

Hodel Senate

This year Model Senate built on the success we achieved last year. Remarkably membership topped last year's record numbers. And with a Presidential Election in November, the debate was even better. The discussion was heated but in the end everyone was friends. We saw in each other a place to come together for an hour or so to share our common interest in politics. In the end we celebrated with some pizza and even more discussion. We then "took it to the streets to pound the pavement." We attended two conferences. At the first one in late March at Bridgewater State College, we re-enacted the actual U.S. Senate. The Hockomock Model Senate Conferences

What made Math League so special this year? The answer: 2009. Just kidding, you have to be a part of the Math League to understand that joke. But all kidding aside, the 2008-2009 group of Math League participants was remarkably promising. We may have lost some big guns last year but that just allowed everyone else to shine. Konnichiwa! Greetings from the anime club! Anime is the genre of animated eras and movies from Japan and an anime club is an organization that meets to promote anime in a local setting and focuses on broadening cultural horizons and understanding. Anime can either be drawn (referred to as manga) or animated. North Attleboro's Anime Club has its artists, its actors, its readers, and its writers, along with a number of gamers and even an athlete or two. The major event that a majority of the club's members attend is a convention called Anime Boston, which is held every spring. There are also local events, such as the ones hosted at the Richards Memorial Library to which anime and manga enthusiasts are invited to attend. This year the club watched movies, held discussions and played various games. We also set up a type of manga lending program based on library structure in which we lend books to one another. This year the club is run by President Veronica Mc-Carthy, Vice President Travis Garlick, and Treasurer Nicholas (a.k.a. Neeco) Pasciuto. Anyone can join Anime, and newcomers are always welcome.

The 2008-2009 NAHS Chess Club was a diverse group who all had the common interest in the game. This year's chess club brought the game to life at NAHS. Previously to this year, if you were to ever ask a student what they thought of Chess Club, they most likely would respond, "We have a Chess Club at North Attleboro High School?" Or maybe if you did get lucky, and actually asked someone who had heard of it, they would probably just say, "Oh, that's the club with those few geeky guys." The 2008-2009 Chess Club put an end to this stigma, and actually made chess club a worthwhile event to go to. When everyone could go, this year's group was definitely much larger than previous groups, and much more diverse. The 2008-2009 chess club had both male and female members, and players of all skill ranges. Some people were quite familiar with the game, and just wanted to learning how to improve, while others had an interest in play chess. Each week was eventful, and full of its own good qualities. Everyone had their fair share of epic moves, as well as epic defeats. Plenty of rivalries were formed, and many pieces were tossed, after facing inevitable defeat. Although competition was intense, the competition was always friendly, and often times you found yourself playing multiple rematches, in hopes of ending your losing streak. By the end of the school year, every member had seemed to have a firm grasp on what chess is. People learned that the horsey isn't really a horsey, it's actually called a knight, and that it moves in an L shaped pattern. Members also seemed to perfect their strategy, and sooner or later, the people who didn't even know how to set up a board were putting the best players in check before they could blink their eyes. Basically to sum up the 2008-2009 chess club in a sentence, it can be best described as a lot of thought, a lot of fun, Mr. Herber Above: Rich Speranza raises looking up rules, and a lot of donuts. Chess was an event that everyone in the club looked forward to on Tuesdays, and even though the senior members of the club will all go in whatever directions their lives take them, they will always remember the fun they had at the NAHS chess club.

Building Bridges is a great part of North Attleboro High School. Established years ago as a club committed to the acceptance of all "types" of students walking the halls, this year the members of the club worked to further spread the group's passion. They promoted the idea of being an ally. The "Be the Change. Be an Ally" program helped to truly build bridges among the student body. This club is a significant part of our school because it breaks down stereotypical barriers that are created when people notice only the differences between themselves and others. The main message of this club is that someday everyone can feel accepted no matter their sexual orientation, beliefs or faith.

-Katie Czepiel

Hip-hop, comtemporary and ballet... these kids do it all. The hype of the dance club centers around the idea that anyone can enjoy and embrace the pastime of dance. You do not have to be a professional or experienced dancer to at this club. Ms. Bennet, the club advisor encouraged the team to lace up their sneakers and get interested in dance. Besides the aerobic benefits, the group relieved some stress, had a few laughs, and literally danced the afternoons away in room 312. In learning a few new dance moves, the students in the 2008-2009 dance club also made a few new friends and learned more about themselves.

arching Band

The 2008-2009 Marching Band season began with the annual two weeks of band camp at the end of August.

Through those two weeks and throughout the month of September, the marching band and colorguard worked to put together an outstanding crowd pleasing show. The theme was "Songs from Queen," which included the songs "Fat Bottom Girls", "Crazy Little Thing Called Love," and the ever-popular "Bohemian Rhapsody." By the beginning of October the show was set and fully performed at every home football game, the fall Renaissance assembly, and both rallies. Although the season officially ended with the Santa Day Parade in November, the group reconvened in early May in preparation for the Memorial Day Parade.

The Jazz Band meets Monday nights from six to eight. The Jazz Band gives skilled players the opportunity to play music outside the spectrum of the traditional Concert Band. Selections this year included the Big Band classic, "Sing, Sing, Sing" by Benny Goodman and a tribute to one of the most celebrated Jazz musicians of all time, Miles Davis.

This year, a group of overly excessive music students decided to create a new instrumental group: the Recorder Choir. Formed by the students, with much credit going to sophomore Will Palmer, the group was officially formed in October. The original six members were Abbey Thibeault, Caitlin Kenney (sopranos), Emily Alexander (alto), Sarah Atamian (bass), Will Palmer, and Andrew Divoll (tenors). The recorder choir met every Thursday until their first performance at the winter concert. With high spirits and an unbeatable excitement, the Recorder Choir took the stage, performing Amazing Grace and the holiday classic "Carol of the Bells." The group then took a hiatus until mid-January, looking for new music, and new members. The group took a hit with the loss of tenor player Andrew Divoll, but instead gained another alto player, Liz Walek, another bass player, Erin Kiely, and a new tenor player, Pete Mitchell. The group now measured at eight members, all more than willing to start in on a new batch of music. They next performed at the spring's Fine Arts Festival, playing selections from Lord of the Rings, arranged by Pete Mitchell, as well as compositions from the groups' own Will Palmer. Overall the group was a success, and will most likely continue on next year.

Percussion ensemble this year had a sporadic but interesting year.

We had a more traditional ensemble setup, and played Solstice, In the Hall of the Mountain King, and a quiet piano son that was rearranged for mallets. Even though we never seemed to have a full rehearsal and would often get distracted, we somehow managed to put together a good performance.

Every class was represented this year in the group which held auditions at the beginning of the year. Seniors included Arielle Cohen (soprano), Andrew Divoll (bass) and James Dulong (tenor).

Art Club started off with a plan to explore New York City. The craziness ended in December with a sigh of relief as we left for New York. We also focused on college as many of us assembled artwork for our portfolios. January marked the start of our race to the Junior-Senior Art Show in May. One project we embarked on was building a giant heart made of recycled materials for the annual Attleboro Art Museum High School Art project. The last event was our final Art Show that we had all been waiting for.

Music, art, food and friends brought our wild year to an end that none of us would soon forget.

This year's yearbook staff worked as a team. The staff is responsible for stepping up when an editor needs help. The creation of the yearbook is a huge process and everyone in the staff counts. Tasks include identifying people, writing captions, and choosing what pictures go into the yearbook. The yearbook editors put many hours into creating the award winning book. Without the help of our staff, the making of the yearbook would be far from easy.

Coming into the 2008-2009 season for theatre, everyone was thinking, "What can we do to top off what we did last year?" We had a dramatic fall play "Our Town" that most students read their freshman year, not three but four hysterical comedies for the ing music and lights to back up the rock feel. Olivia Lander, Vice-President Ryan Caster, and the rest of their E-board put their heads together with the aid of Ms. Forsgard to think of what we could possibly do. Even when we were sure of what we were doing, we still didn't think that it would be possible to top last year. We were pleasantly surprised with what we could do. Thank you everyone in the company for an amazing year! We have really become one big family over the years and I will never forget any of the great moments we have shared.

ne Aet Play Festival

Every year in the winter, the theatre company puts on the student directed one-act festival where the students pick a one act play. He or she casts, directs, and performs it. It is a competition between directors for the audience's favorite play and also the judge's choice for the best play. Not only is it a competition for the directors but for the actors as well. The audience chooses their favorite actors and actresses from each show and the judges do the same as well as choosing their favorite actor and actress of the festival. This year the audience's favorite show was "The Brothers Grimm Spectaculathon" directed by junior Joe Kain. The judge's choice for best director was sophomore Kim Fears who directed "High School Non-Musical" and for the second year in a row, best actor and actress went to sophomores Connor Bry and Heather Ann Krasner. All the directors, actors and techies did amazing and made this year's festival a blast. It was one of the first programs to air on the new channel nine.

The International Thespian Society is an honor society that recognizes excellence in acting and in technical theatre. To be included in this society, one must complete one hundred hours in their high school theatre group, splitting up their hours either 80 acting or 20 technical vice versa. This year, we are inducting eight new members into troupe 1088 ranging from freshmen to juniors. The motto, "Act well your part; There all the honor lies" is one that many have found not to use just within the four walls of our Cobb Theatre, but also as a motto to live your life by. Keep acting well, and the honor will follow you wherever you go.

The Semi-Monthly Coffeehouse offers students from all cliques within the school a chance to get together over a common goal and showcase their talent. In one night of attendance, you may witness a boy wearing a mustache playing his harmonica, a girl belting out a popular song or the quiet kild in class who has gotten up the nerve to read his poetry. Customarily held at the First Congressional Church on Old Post Road, the Coffeehouse encourages kilds to perform what they love, spend time with friends and family, reject the pressures of a normal Friday night and of course raise money for a charity. Each night, the advisor's Francesca Boulton, Caroline Munger, Hannah Nelson and Kerry Fitzpatrick run the Coffeehouse with a charity in mind and all the proceeds from the night then contribute to that organization. In their fifth year of existence, the Coffeehouse is going strong and it's started as 'cool" as ever to be at the Coffeehouse.

Gudent Council

This year the NAHS Student Council put the quote "leadership in action" in full throttle. In my opinion, the 2008-2009 school year was one of the most successful years the Student Council put forth. We all enjoyed leading the school and making NAHS a better place. This year's student council was under the leadership of Jill Rougeau as our president, myself, Sean Rooney, as Vice President, Arielle Fernberg as Secretary, and junior Kathryn Bagarella as treasurer. This was the first year since the 1990s that NAHS attended SEMASC (South Eastern Mass Student Council Convention). With a warm welcome, the officers were proud to represent North Attleboro High School. Also, the two American Red Cross blood drives were a great success. We were so happy to see how many NAHS students gave blood to potentially save lives. The NAHS Student Council was there as always to read "Tacky the Penguin" to the heros that gave blood. As a senior, my two years on the Student Council were a great experience and I hope the same traditions are carried down in the future. Lastly, we hope that Ms. Caldwell is there to support the Student Council; she is a great supervisor.

Informal Class Day

Informal class day was a day to celebrate the seniors. Our class history was read by the class officers that recaptured memories of our unforgettable journey through the past. Nick Wade and Colin Flynn presented the senior slide show which was filled with pictures that made us all feel nostal-gic. The presentation concluded with a special tribute to Alex Blase, allowing us to reminisce about our time spent with him. The 2009 Superlatives were handed down to the juniors and yearbook editors for the Class of 2010 were announced. Finally, the day finished off with the yearbook editors dedicating the yearbook to Mr. Albertini. It was a short yet sweet assembly that brought back memories and made us all realize how quickly time has gone by these past few years.

formal Class Night

Once again the class of 2009 marched into the gym, however this time, all dressed in formal wear. The night was all about recognizing the best and the brightest of the class, as many students received various academic awards. The senior essay contest winners, Shums Alikhan, Sarah Sieber, and Abigail Sprague all read their essays. A special athletic cup was given to Nick Wade as well as Julianne Cappadona for their many accomplishments in track & field and cross-country. Once the awards and speeches were finished, the class proceeded out of the gym and into the senior hallway for a special part of the evening. We lined up to meet with parents and families, who congratulated us and wished us the best of luck for the future. It was a truly unforgettable evening that made us realize that our days at NAHS and together are really coming to an end.

Graduation

It was finally here. The night we had all been waiting for. We knew that graduation would be our last official night together as a class. The ceremony was held indoors due to the rain, however, that didn't put a stop to our smiles. We marched into the gym proudly as all eyes were on us. Class President Amy Chea then welcomed everyone to the ceremony and salutatorian Kerry Fitzpatrick gave her wonderful speech. The musicians in our class were soon asked to join the high school band one last time. Valedictorian Jacquelyn Tupper's speech left a profound effect on each and every one of us as following the band selection. After the Class of 1959's 50th Anniversary celebration, Superintendent Dr. Rice also enlightened us with his words, and then it was time for the presentation of the diplomas. Each student walked up as his or her name was called, filled with pride and excited for this moment The evening finally ended with the class ode by Sarah Sieber, Mr. Gay's own unforgettable speech, and the tassel ceremony that officially declared us graduates. It was a remarkable moment in our lives that I know none of us will ever forget. - Shums Alikhan

All Night Grad Party

The annual All Night Grad Party, located at the YMCA, was a huge success. Students participated in many activities, including the bungee run, sumo wrestling, laser tag, dodgeball, and poker games, among other things. Frank Santos performed his final show for our class and we all enjoyed laughformed his final show for our class and we all enjoyed laughform at the ridiculous scenarios that he puppeteered. Every student won a raffle prize ranging from gym memberships and pizza to televisions and a Wii. Overall, the night was enjoyed by all and it was a great way to spend our last night together as a class.

This year's Northern Light Yearbook Editors sought to create memories; not only of the people, but of the place as well. This year's well-guarded theme centered specifically on North Attleboro High School and all its quirks. Looking at everything from a different angle certainly gave us a new perspective on the school and its inhabitants. All of us put in long hours of hard work to make this year's yearbook as amazing as possible. We would like to thank Patty Lush and Dan Smith from Herff Jones for their great guidance throughout the year. It's been a great year with lots of fun making your memories. We wish the best to our successors next year. - Caitlin Kenney

This year's senior class would like to acknowledge and thank the entire staff for their hard work and dedication towards our education. There were a record number of votes going out to staff from every department. Many teachers are deserving of such an honor, but only one can win. In the end, it was a close vote, but there was one clear winner.

This staff member is extremely well liked and respected by the entire staff and student body. With more than 30 years of experience in the North Attleboro school system, he has made many friends with his genuine character. This staff member was a part of many facets of the school. He has taught science, guarded the bathrooms, and was an Energy Czar where he assessed the energy use for the school.

These jobs all shaped his attitude toward living green and being conservative with the Earth. He's always cracking jokes and always has a smile on his face, even with a broken foot. Whether or not you have been in his classes, his presence doesn't go unnoticed. He befriends students of all variety and truly earns everyone's respect. The class of 2009 has risen to the occasion to dedicate this year's yearbook to Mr. Robert Albertini.

He was just playing some basketball at the local Y when it all happened. And when he went down, the whole community felt the effect. We all knew him, or at least knew who he was. And it's safe to say we all felt his presence when he entered the room. Alex was something else. He was special. And he was as much a part of us as we were a part of him. When his life was taken on May 12th, we doubted our ability to bounce back from such a loss. But we knew it was key to stick close through this time, for there was no getting through it alone. But with such a tragedy came a mini miracle. For the first time in years, we witnessed old friends and old cliques gathering together, once again, in honor of his memory. For the first time since high school began, we witnessed our entire class come together as a whole body, and not just 260+ individuals. Alex's memory will never be forgotten. Instead it shall forever live on through each and every one of us. Rest In Peace our friend. -Rayshawn Green
